Build activity into your daily life

Staying active in pregnancy maintains your fitness, improves your mood and helps you sleep.

Every activity counts. Speak to your health care professional today for more information on staying active.